UHT Associate & Upgrading Instructor Certification Training

Dear participants in the Universal Healing Tao Instructor Training

From my first introduction to the Tao as a little boy to the present day, my journey with the Tao has been full of great challenges and experiences. One of the greatest challenges was when I started teaching in America beginning with one-to-one sessions until eventually I was teaching groups of twenty, fifty or one hundred people. This was quite a learning experience for me.

In the last twenty years, I took up a new challenge by creating the Universal Healing Tao System with the help and support of my family and many Universal Healing Tao Instructors around the world.

The process included the creation of Tao Garden in Thailand which incorporates the Continental Network Center Asia that I have made available to anyone who is seeking to create a higher quality of life by being in touch with the Source.

Becoming an Instructor is not just learning a skill, increasing your competence or knowing the techniques or the teachings (although these are definitely important); it is about refining our character by cultivating and developing the virtues and spiritual values that we esteem - love, kindness, gentleness, courage, fairness, understanding, openness, and a sense of community among us all.

I wish you all a great training with UHT Faculty Coordinator Rentao and our Senior Instructor Team.
